Putting Your Family Tree Online

Interested in putting your family information online for others to find?

This 3-week course will cover the various options available for family historians to choose from: the use of major genealogy sites like familysearch.org or Ancestry; wiki sites such as WikiTree; blogs; or building your own website. The simpler and free options will be emphasized. In addition to a full exploration of these options, the course will also describe what can happen to your online information when you die and what planning you should do for this eventuality.

Lecturer: Marion Press

Course Location:
Toronto Reference Library
Learning Centre 1
789 Yonge St, Toronto, ON

When
Tuesdays, 6:15-8:15 PM
October 25, November 1 & 8, 2016

Fees for each Course:
OGS members: $50
Non-members: $60

Registration Required

- Register on-line – it's quick and easy!
- Use PayPal to pay by credit card or PayPal account or mail a cheque.
- Pre-registration is required to guarantee your space in the meeting room

On-line registration and fee payment is at:
http://torontofamilyhistory.org/learn/courses

For registration assistance:
Email: courses@torontofamilyhistory.org

A Family History Course sponsored by:

Toronto Branch, Ontario Genealogical Society